more from football fc barcelona open a new era barcelona broke the seal on their centenary season by victory in the copa del rey final. last updated: 09/12/12 5:35pm cesc fabregas is expected to start on saturday in the copa del rey final against athletic bilbao the catalan club's centenary season began with victory against valencia in the copa del rey final, before league titles in both la liga and the spanish cup followed last weekend. that success continued on sunday in the spanish super cup, the first time since 1999 that the club has retained the trophy. the camp nou was packed to near capacity for the final, watched by an estimated 80,000 fans, while more than one million had been watching the final across the country on free-to-air television. and it was most fitting for a club in the midst of its 100-year anniversary celebrations that the first game should be played in front of a predominantly catalan audience. clubs such as bayern munich, chelsea and manchester united have also raised the lid on their centenary celebrations by playing on a sunday in the premier league but the catalan giants are atypical as the only major club to be played on a sunday in spain. local derby implications sunday's final did not affect proceedings in the clasico - where barcelona aim to retain the primera division title in the last match at camp nou before the move to the nou camp stadium - but they could have a major bearing on the title race. athletic bilbao sit eight points behind barcelona in la liga but are four points ahead of the blaugranas in la liga's race for four trophies in an epic five-way battle. bilbao's goal difference is better than barcelona's and if they can hold out for a draw or win on sunday, the title race would be no contest. and athletic's italian midfielder francesco modesto told sky sports: "we're fighting for la liga but the copa del rey is very important for us and this year it's on at the camp nou." barca: valdes, alba, carles puyol, pique, xavi, busquets, sergio busquets, pedro, de jong, andres iniesta, messi, suarez, neymar, fabregas. subs: valdes, abidal, masip, pedro, arbeloa, cazorla, pedro, pedro, sergi roberto, enrique. athletic: adriano, pennant, abenya, kike, beñat, banega, messi, mitrovic, costa, falcao, kaka, ramos, zabaleta, coentrao, varela, fernando, iniesta. subs: adriano, insigne, mata, vitolo, aspás,
